PROLOGUE

I say unto thee, that a poor man, who cannot read a line, that goeth into the house of the afflicted, giving what little he hath, and, with a willing heart, cleaneth the floor and garments of the bed-ridden, is more learned in my kingdoms than are these graduated preachers. (Judgment 26:6)

But hear Thou my prayer, O Father! Make me strong, that I may carry heavy burdens for the weary; give me liberty, that I may go about helping the poor forever. Give me wisdom, that I may uncover Thy glories before men. (Cpenta-Armij 2:11)

It hath been said, from time without end, that to help the poor, to give to them, to serve them, is good works done unto others. But I say unto you, this but half-way to that which is good. For ye shall not only help them, but shall go and teach them how to help themselves. This is doing good unto others. (Eskra 27:12)

I proclaim all people His People; and I say also, go forth and redeem the world. But not with words only, nor by the sword, nor by armies of destroyers but by peace and love, and providing remedies for the poor, and afflicted, and helpless, and distressed. (Ouranohen 1:24)
